

JEREMY'S JOURNEY

EXPLORE BOSTON'S REVOLUTIONARY HISTORY WITH ONE BRAVE RAT!

LET'S EXPLORE!

There's so much history to explore in Boston! Want to take a journey around the city with me to explore it? Great! Let's get started!

Here is a map of some places we can explore today! I can't wait to find the answers to all of our historical questions!

OLD SOUTH MEETING HOUSE

OLD STATE HOUSE

MILK STREET

SPRING LANE

Hi, I'm Jeremy!

Let me tell you a little bit about myself. I am descended from a long line of rodents who have cared for Old South Meeting House. I like hanging out with my friends, playing air guitar, flip bottle, and programming in Scratch. My pet peeves include cleaning, lofi beats, and history taught by names and dates.

Wow! Look at the lantern on the corner of the Old South Meeting House! I’ve never noticed it before. What two street names are written on the sides of it?

Every detail of this building is so cool! It must have taken them a long time to build it. I wonder when they started? I bet we can find an answer on a corner stone on the outside of the building. A corner stone is the first element put in place when a building is being constructed. The corner stone should have the date that construction began carved in it. Can you find a stone on the corner of the building with a year?

MARCH 31, _____

I heard that someone really famous and revolutionary was born across the street from the the Old South Meeting House! I don't think his house is around anymore, but maybe we can find his name on one of the buildings where it used to be?

We should be able to find a bust of him on 1 Milk Street, right next to where we are now!

Let's draw a picture of the statue and write his name down here so we won't forget this famous patriot!

Let's walk over to Spring Lane! I wonder why it's called Spring Lane? Can you find a sign or plaque that tells us what it is? Write what you find below:

Let's explore more on this street! I hear this is where one of the original Mayflower passengers lived. I wonder if we can find a plaque for her on this street?

Can you find her name? Write it below!

Look up! There are lions' heads up there! How many lions can you count on top of the building? Write the number of lions you can find below: _____

Let's walk over to the Old State House! I heard they have really cool animals on top of the building! Can you find all three and list them below?

- 1. _____
- 2. _____
- 3. _____

Do you know what big event happened outside this building on March 5, 1770? I bet we can find clues all around!

What's that loud noise coming from underneath the building? Do you know?

Did you know this building is a museum? Let's explore the first floor and check out all these scents!

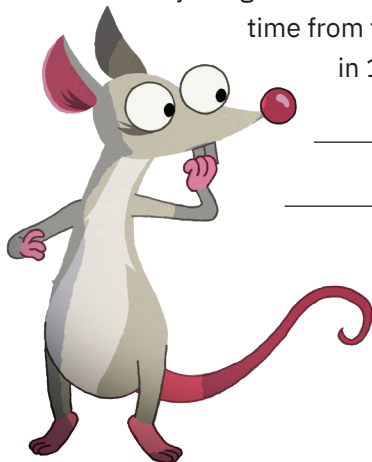

Which smell is your favorite? _____

What does it smell like? _____

The first exhibit, Colony to Commonwealth, has a lot of objects from the Revolutionary War! Can you find all of the cannon balls? How many can you find?

Write the number: _____

Let's check out the Council Chamber upstairs! Can you figure out what document was read for the first time from the balcony of the Old State House in 1776? Write your answer below!

THANK YOU for helping me explore Boston today! I had a ton of fun! As a thank you, I've left a gift for you at the front desk of the museum! Show them your completed notebook and the staff will make sure you receive your 📦 gift!

follow us on social: @revspaces visit us: revolutionaryspaces.org

Visit the Old South Meeting House
for more revolutionary fun!
Open daily, shows every day.
Let's make a Ruckus!

